

Virtual Hackathons

Communiter is combining the scalability of tech solutions with the speed and outcome-driven format of hackathons. This event aims to activate employees into volunteering and accelerate the growth of your corporate volunteering program.

What is a Hackathon?

A short, pressurized process where ideas are designed, developed, deployed, and demonstrated, consisting of 5 phases.

Team forming & context setting

Understanding the NFP mission & challenge

Brainstorming & ideation

Presenting the final solution

Recognition

How will this benefit your teams?

Virtual hackathons are a new and creative way to activate teams, rather than painting walls or packing boxes. Your teams can create a meaningful impact on strategic projects that have a lasting benefit to not-for-profits and their delivery of essential services.

Engage employees across different teams around a common cause;

Provide WFH teams flexible volunteering options online;

Scale the impact of your volunteering program with maximum impact.

Next Steps

Get in touch with our team to express your interest in planning a hackathon. This is an add-on product to your existing corporate volunteering plan with Communiter.

1. Our expert consultant team will scope projects from your community partners;
2. We'll provide content to build interest and awareness of volunteering with your teams;
3. Together, we'll facilitate activities on the day, capturing the stories and impact.
